GET READY FOR THE BEST NATURAL DEVELOPMENT ENVIRONMENT EVER

The Service

NaturalONE provides a unique set of functionality to enable the developer to “develop, manage and improve all in one.” NaturalONE’s Eclipse-based development environment helps the Java developer feel at home. In about a week’s time a Java developer can be proficient enough on NaturalONE to maintain current Natural applications, thus helping to address skills concerns many organizations are beginning to have.

This service enables customers to jump-start onto the NaturalOne platform and prepare development and management to modernize their Natural development environment.

- Easier and less risky introduction of NaturalOne into your development processes due to a better understanding of the technology and on-site mentoring.
- Increased satisfaction among your development teams - even for Java developers.
