

Infosys Continuous Integration Platform for webMethods

The continuous integration setup has to “rapidly, reliably and repeatedly release working software with low risk and minimal manual overhead”.

Infosys Continuous Integration (CI) Platform is a centralized platform that can be leveraged by projects teams working on webMethods applications to schedule automated builds along with integrated code analysis, code coverage, building the binaries, deployment of the application and unit testing.

Infosys webMethods CI Platform- Workflow

Logs in to CI platform
configures a CI job

